Glossary of Terms

Commercial interest

A commercial interest is any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. JSHBPS does not consider providers of clinical service directly to patients to be commercial interests.

Financial relationships

Financial relationships are those relationships in which the individual benefits by receiving a salary, royalty, intellectual property rights, consulting fee, honoraria, ownership interest (e.g., stocks, stock options or other ownership interest, excluding diversified mutual funds), research funding from companies or for-profit organizations, or other financial benefit. Financial benefits are usually associated with roles such as employment, management position, independent contractor (including contracted research), consulting, speaking and teaching, membership on advisory committees or review panels, board membership, and other activities from which remuneration is received, or expected. JSHBPS considers relationships of the person involved in the JSHBPS activity to include financial relationships of a spouse or partner.

Relevant financial relationships

JSHBPS focuses on financial relationships with commercial interests in the 12-month period preceding the time of the submission to JHBPS. Please refer to JSHBPS's definition for conflict of interest which must be disclosed (<http://www.jshbps.jp/en/official-journal/conflict.html>).

Conflict of interest

Circumstances create a conflict of interest when an individual has an opportunity to affect JHBPS content about products or services of a commercial interest with which he/she has a financial relationship.

All of the forms from each author need to be uploaded online and submitted with the manuscript at the time of submission by the corresponding author.
